The City of Houston Housing and Community Development Department (HCDD) is gearing up for another exciting Open House and Public Hearing. Think we have it easy? Step into our shoes with an interactive budgeting game that will allow teams to determine how much money to place into each Housing and Community Development program. Armed with your new programming knowledge, give us your feedback and opinions for the estimated $40 million in federal grants detailed in the 2018 Annual Action Plan. Bring your friends and neighbors and get in on the action!
